Chief Executive Officer Corinne Lejbowicz is named Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer

After meeting on May 14th 2007, the LeGuide.com S.A. Board of Directors announced a change in the rapidly expanding company's structure.

The Board of Directors has named Mrs. Corinne Lejbowicz President of the Board, replacing Mr. Patrice Magnard, who has resigned from his position as non-executive Chairman of the Board in order to dedicate himself fully to his activities as Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer of Maxicours.com, a rapidly developing online tutoring company.

According to Patrice Magnard, "The expansion opportunities open to LeGuide.com S.A. mean increasing involvement from board members. It seems logical to me at this stage in the company's development to nominate Corinne Lejbowicz as Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer at the head of a smaller Board of Directors."

Formerly VP Strategic Marketing for the Vivendi Internet division and VP Strategy for the AOL France subsidiary, Corinne Lejbowicz, 47 years old, joined LeGuide.com management two years ago.

Mr. Igor Schlumberger has also decided to leave the Board of Directors in order to devote more time to his new business; he has recently launched Videomark, a company specialized in video marketing.

A Leaner Board of Directors Ready to Drive Strong Company Growth

These changes mean the company will have a leaner Board of Directors consisting of four members: Chairman of the Board and CEO Corinne Lejbowicz is accompanied by the company's founder, Michael Copsidas, whose focus is business strategy, as well as Holger Wiemann, who has a solid international background, and Joel Flichy, who represents Galileo Partners. The latter two members will be advising Corinne on European development.

The Board's new structure will allow its members be more closely involved during this period of strong company growth.
